Why Attend

Audit committees play a central role in protecting organisational integrity, strengthening corporate governance, and providing independent oversight of financial reporting, internal controls, risk management, and assurance activities. As organisations face increasingly complex regulatory requirements, technological disruption, cybersecurity threats, financial uncertainty, and heightened stakeholder expectations, the responsibilities of audit committees continue to evolve.

Modern audit committees must move beyond traditional financial reporting oversight to adopt a more forward-looking approach to governance. This requires a strong understanding of emerging risks, organisational resilience, digital transformation, fraud prevention, regulatory compliance, and the effectiveness of internal and external assurance functions.

Course Methodology

- The programme combines instructor-led governance discussions, audit committee case studies, regulatory and governance framework analysis, boardroom simulations, financial reporting reviews, and practical committee effectiveness workshops.
- Participants examine illustrative audit committee charters, meeting agendas, board reports, financial statements, internal audit findings, external auditor communications, risk registers, and management action plans.
- Practical exercises focus on evaluating governance arrangements, challenging financial and risk information, reviewing assurance reports, preparing audit committee questions, and developing recommendations to strengthen committee oversight and effectiveness.

Course Objectives

- Explain the evolving role of audit committees in modern corporate governance
- Evaluate audit committee responsibilities, authority, independence, and accountability
- Develop effective audit committee charters and governance arrangements
- Strengthen oversight of financial reporting, accounting judgments, and disclosure quality
- Assess internal control systems and enterprise risk management frameworks
- Evaluate the independence, performance, and effectiveness of internal audit functions

Course content

| Target Audience

- This course is suitable for:
- Audit committee chairs and members
- Board directors and independent non-executive directors
- Board secretaries and corporate governance professionals
